Closing Reflections:

A challenge I faced when producing this website was the disposition of many elements on the page. It took me a while to correctly position each element where they should be.

A highlight I encountered was various techniques with HTML and CSS to be able to produce a full-fledged website and be able to create a website from scratch and make it look spectacular. I have learnt also is that, time is a major factor in web designing as each element takes time to position and be worked out what happens with that particular element.

I am not considering to use this website outside the scope of this unit but will keep a hold of it to recognise that I have once created a website from scratch and the layout is what is shown on the screen.

Although, if I were to take this website beyond the scope of this unit, I would improve on the navigation as it looks blocky and out of place and try create flow in more of the elements present on the website.

Final Website Report - Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Do I really have to use the provided template?

A: No, but we highly recommend that you do. If you wish, you may create your own document formatting / design, as long as you take care to retain the same headings as the provided template

Q: Do I have to fill in every section / every page in this assignment template?

A: Yes.

Q: The provided pages aren't enough for me to list all my references or other project related details. Can I add extra pages to this template?

A: Yes.

Q: Can I use any font face / type size that I like to fill out this assignment template?

A: Yes, as long as your completed document is clear and legible. For maximum compatibility/legibility, we recommend using universally available fonts like Arial, Helvetica, Times New Roman or Cambria at no smaller than 10 point font size.

Q: My tutor recommended that I make some specific design changes to my project. In my 'Design Deviations Reference List', can I just list my tutor as the source for my design improvements rationale?

A: No. While you tutor will certainly provide pointed suggestions for improving your site design, you must still find other credible research sources that support and rationalise why those changes result in an improved website design / user experience.

Q: Are the FAQs for each assignment different?

A: Yes, in the same way that the requirements for each assignment are different. Please take the time to read the assignment brief, marking rubric and relevant templates for each assignment.
